Trust face fine after death fall

AN NHS trust is facing a hefty fine for breaching health and safety laws after an elderly patient fell out of a window at Walsall Manor Hospital and died.

Harry Riley, of Walsall Wood, fell more than 20ft from a first floor window and died of multiple injuries, Walsall Magistrates heard.

Walsall Hospitals NHS Trust is being prosecuted by the Health and Safety Executive and admitted failing to carry out a risk assessment.

Mr Adam Farrer, prosecuting, said the 71-year-old, of Poxon Road, had been admitted to hospital in January 2009 after suffering a stroke. Mr Riley had been in an assessment unit.

Mr Farrer said Mr Riley's wife, Ann, had described him as a "bit confused", although nursing staff did not find this to be the case. He had been spending his second night at the hospital when the fall happened.

Mr Farrer said Mr Riley got out of bed just before midnight and disconnected himself from a drip before he plunged "20-or-so feet" out of a window.

Mr Farrer told the court the hospital trust had failed to carry out a risk assessment, adding: "The upper window did not have a restrictor fitted to it."

Regulations

Safety regulations state the window should not have been allowed to open more than 10cm.

Mr Bernard Thorogood represented the hospital trust during Monday's hearing and entered a guilty plea to breaching a regulation of the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999 between January 1, 2000, and January 20, 2009.

The case was committed to Wolverhampton Crown Court for sentence on May 1. Black Country Coroner Robin Balmain recorded an open verdict at Mr Riley's inquest in May 2010.

DELIGHT AT JOBS BOOST FOR TOWN

MORE than 100 new jobs are to be created in Walsall and Willenhall by two growing firms.

Electrical installation company Eco-1 Electrical Solutions Ltd, in Aldridge, is to create 100 jobs over the next year, bosses have revealed. It comes as the firm is on track to turn over £5 million this year, despite launching just seven months ago.

Meanwhile, scrap metal company Cable & Alloys has unveiled plans for 12 new jobs with the creation of an electrical and mattress recycling complex in Willenhall.

Bosses plan to convert a vacant site in Springvale Street.

Councillors welcomed the jobs boost for the borough.

Regeneration chief Councillor Adrian Andrew said: "This is yet another example of Walsall bucking the trend with job creation."

"It is clear there is growth and recovery at the moment and much of it is in the Walsall borough."

"I am delighted about it. I would like to thank people for investing in our town and have the faith and confidence in our borough."

Eco-1 Electrical Solutions is based in Wharf Approach, Aldridge, but is poised to move to new offices being built at the former Aldridge Magistrates Court. It is expected to complete the move on July 1.

Legal threat over repairs

TRUSTEES of an outdoor centre are threatening legal action against Walsall Council over a £500,000 repairs bill.

The council ended its partnership with the Bryntysilio centre in North Wales last year to save cash, throwing its future into doubt. But the trustees have since agreed a partnership with the charity Wide Horizons to continue its work.

The trustees say they are facing a huge repair bill from the time when the authority leased its buildings and have only been offered part of this by the council.

Councillor Bird said: "Cabinet agreed in November that we should pay dilapidations at the level set by external advisors and this is still the case."

by Lisa O'Brien

David Hill, company chairman, said: "We set this business up in August and intend to move there. It will create lots of jobs for electricians locally and nationally."

"In the next year we will be looking to take on 100 people. We are also looking for apprentices."

Currently, the company employs between 50 and 60 electricians nationwide.

In Willenhall, the new jobs created if the plans are given the go-ahead would be for 10 full-time roles and four part-time workers. It is planned that at least 10 of the jobs would go to the unemployed.

The plans are due to be considered by Walsall Council in the coming weeks.

Mother's charity race rally cry

Mum's the word – Mandy Walker encourages participation in Race for Life with, from left, daughters Lydia Dykes, Bethany Dykes and step-daughter Harriet Walker

A CANCER survivor from Walsall is calling on women across the region to sign up for this year's fundraising Race for Life.

Mother-of-three Mandy Walker has issued a rallying cry to other mothers, daughters, sisters and their friends to get ready to put on their trainers for the annual event on Sunday, June 10, at 11am.

Test

The 51-year-old, who runs Walsall business Pegasus Medical with husband Jim, has battled cancer herself after a routine test in 2007.

Mandy had a full hysterectomy but did not need any more treatment as the cancer had not spread.

Race for Life for Cancer Research UK will take place at Walsall Arboretum. Call 0871 641 1111 for further details.

Borough on torch route

THOUSANDS of people are expected to line the streets of Walsall when the Olympic Torch passes through on June 30.

It will go through Bloxwich, Leamore and Birchills then into the town centre, along the ring road, into Lichfield Street, Park Street and Gallery Square.

Walsall leisure chief Anthony Harris said it was a "once-in-a-lifetime opportunity" for residents.

Campaign will carry on to save green belt

CAMPAIGNERS fighting against plans to build homes on green belt land in Walsall have vowed to continue their battle after a decision on the proposal was deferred.

The controversial multi-million pound scheme would see open space in Blakenall, known as The Lea, built on and the former Goscoe estate converted to green belt in a "land swap" deal.

Councillors voted to postpone a decision on whether to approve the outline plans at its meeting last week (see page 5) to allow more consultation to take place.

The campaign group set up in the weeks prior to the meeting, which has raised a 273-name petition in opposition to the plans, say they will "fight to the end" to ensure The Lea remains green belt land.

Pete Smith, a resident and former councillor who helped set up the group, said: "We are going to fight vociferously against any proposals to build on The Lea. We are going to fight until such time that we have persuaded the council to build on brown field sites and that there needs to be a fair mix of properties."

"We only had three weeks to do something before but now we have a bit of breathing space."

The proposal was put off for ecology reports and further consultation.

Protesters hail victory

A PROTEST march against plans for a probation hostel in Moxley turned into a victory parade on Saturday after Walsall Council made clear it's opposition to the proposal.

Walsall regeneration boss Councillor Adrian Andrew said the land at the former Moxley Infants School should be used for housing instead.

Shop's booze ban goes to appeal

A BID to allow a vacant shop to start selling booze in an area of Walsall plagued by anti-social behaviour has gone to appeal after it was thrown out by councillors.

A developer had applied to change the planning conditions for the shop in Essington Road and remove conditions that the shop cannot sell alcohol.

But the police and families living nearby objected to the plans amid fears that the ongoing problem of yobbish behaviour would be made worse. Councillors backed them by turning down the application.

The premises are on the corner of Essington Road and Baynton Road.

Inspectorate

Councillor Ian Shires said he hoped that the planning inspectorate would take the same view as the police and the council on the issue.

He said: "There is a lot of anti-social behaviour that is drink-related and a lot of effort has been put in by various agencies over the past 12 to 18 months. A lot of effort, time and money has gone into to try to resolve the situation.

"The main objectors are the police, they put in a piece to the council to say that they were opposed to it, and that was taken into account. This just means that the resources we have are going to be stretched. The police have got enough to do."

He added: "There are at least half a dozen alcohol outlets within easy reach, and they just don't need another one. We have to draw a line somewhere."

£6m training centre is open on college campus

A NEW multi-million pound learning and training centre has opened in Walsall.

The Innovation Centre with modern conference facilities has been built on the Alumwell Business and Enterprise College campus.

The £6 million building, formerly referred to as the Healthtec, is to be used by secondary students from around the borough.

It includes a state-of-the-art health suite complete with an ambulance entrance and an assessment and treatment area, providing a 'real life' health care environment for students.

Walsall Council is in discussion with health providers to develop new learning opportunities.

Walsall Adult and Community College courses are expected to operate some courses from the venue.

Community

The base in Primley Avenue will host sessions for students, headteachers, professionals and businesses.

Facilities includemeeting rooms, training suites and a fully interactive lecture theatre and a cafe, and will also be available for community use.

Walsall cabinet member for children's services Councillor Rachel Andrew said: "We are keen to work with local organisations to extend its use." For more information or booking enquiries, call college business centre manager Mo Loonat on 01922 720741.

School aims to extend

A NEW classroom is being planned at a primary school under expansion plans submitted to Walsall Council.

St Thomas of Canterbury School, in Dartmouth Avenue, is hoping to create a front extension, lobby and secretary's office as well as a new classroom at the rear. A link would also be created between the nursery and reception classrooms.

An application to planners says the school lacks a proper security lobby which under current legislation is "not acceptable".

Small

One of the current classrooms has also been branded "very small".

There is no plan to increase pupil numbers at the school.

Play areas at the school will be unaffected by the changes, while the creation of a link between nursery and reception areas will help create an enclosed area."

'Unwinnable' war

WALSALL Labour MP David Winnick is pushing for British troops to withdraw from Afghanistan sooner than the 2014 plan. Mr Winnick, Walsall North MP, said: "I believe the war, which has gone on for over 10 years, is unwinnable. This view is generally shared now by the public."

Awards night

TICKETS are available for the Walsall FC end of season awards evening at the Banks's Stadium at the Stadium Suite on May 16. Josh Daniels will entertain and there is a three-course meal. Tickets are £30 per person available from the Banks's Stadium or by calling 01922 651414.

Jobs saved as store reopens

Sales assistant Wayida Kausar, assistant manager Michelle Russell and manager Lorena Betts celebrate the Bonmarche store in Digbeth, Walsall, being saved

FIVE jobs have been saved after a long-running clothing store in Walsall town centre was granted a reprieve, allowing it to stay open.

Workers at Bonmarche, in Digbeth, were devastated when they were told in January that the store was among hundreds set to close when the chain was bought by a new owner.

All the stock had been cleared out of the store, which has been in the town centre for almost 19 years. But it was granted a last-minute reprieve three weeks ago after a deal was negotiated with the landlords.

The shop closed for three days last week to restock with spring and summer fashions.

It has now reopened to customers, and staff want to stress that it is business as usual despite closing down signs in the windows just days ago.

Cannabis factory found at home of drug user

A CANNABIS factory was discovered at a Walsall home after its occupant was arrested for trying to sell bags of the drug at a railway station car park near Cannock, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Karl Hodgkins was arrested at Landywood train station when he was spotted handing over a bag of cannabis to a man, the court was told.

Police later searched the 31-year-old's home in Jessel Road where 13 plants and four pots with plant debris were found in two bedrooms which had been converted into cannabis growing rooms with hydroponic systems.

Hodgkins was jailed for 13 months last week after admitting possessing drugs with intent to supply and producing cannabis, along with breaching a suspended prison sentence.

Arthritis

Mr Paul Farrow, prosecuting, said that the 13 plants would have yielded more than £10,000 annually.

Mr Farrow said Hodgkins told police he was a heavy cannabis user and was growing it because he had no money.

The set-up had cost him £500.

Miss Rhona Campbell, defending, said Hodgkins had arthritis and turned to cannabis as self-medication. "You are not presented with a callous, professional criminal," she said.

New library on schedule

WALSALL'S new £4 million library and health complex is on schedule to be completed later this year.

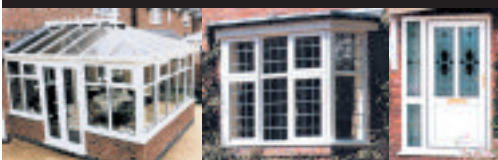

Windows are being fitted following the roof being secured on the complex, which will feature doctors' surgeries, a children's centre and a library.

It is being built on the former library site in Pelsall High Street, alongside Pelsall Common.

Mayor Councillor Garry Perry said: "It's an exciting phase and an exciting year. I think we will have first class service for our community."

Depressed mother died after cellar fire

A MOTHER in Walsall died after her clothing caught fire, an inquest heard.

Zuban Nisa was discovered with burns after emergency services went to Rowley Street, Chuckery.

The hearing in Walsall was told that the 68-year-old had suffered depression.

Fire crews and paramedics were called and Mrs Nisa was airlifted to Birmingham's Queen Elizabeth Hospital but died a short time later.

An investigation by West Midlands Fire Service found an empty bottle of white spirit and a box of matches in the basement.

Medication

Fire investigator Nigel Adams said the blaze was confined to the clothing Mrs Nisa was wearing.

Her son Asad Rahman told the hearing that Mrs Nisa had suffered from depression over a number of years and received medication.

Black Country coroner Robin Balmain said it was a "desperately sad" case.

Recording a narrative verdict, he said: "Mrs Nisa died whilst in the cellar at her home when her clothing caught fire."

"There are no suspicious circumstances."

MP hits out
at shake-up of the NHS

A WALSALL MP has spoken out in the Commons against the Government's planned shake-up of the NHS.

The Health and Social Care Bill will see more responsibility given to GPs.

During the debate, Valerie Vaz, MP for Walsall South, claimed the Bill was causing confusion.

She said: "GPs in Walsall have written to me to say that they are disengaged and uninspired."

Dangerous

"GPs have no experience of a business model of this scale and the pace of change is dangerous."

"The NHS is an organisation in which miracles sometimes happen, which is why people are fighting to protect and save the very essence of its existence."

The debate followed an opposition motion after a petition attracted more than 170,000 signatures.

Homes plan is transforming canalside

THE SECOND phase of multi-million pound plans to transform the Brownhills canalside and build 80 new homes is under way.

The ambitious plans include improving the High Street by creating new residential developments and renovating nearby blocks of flats.

The second phase of the Walsall Housing Group scheme for 33 properties has started and includes a mix of houses and apartments.

The majority of the homes will be let by the housing group for "affordable" rent.

Another 47 homes are being created on the site and are due to be completed this summer.

More than £3 million is being spent on the regeneration plans near to the Wyrley and Essington Canal which are earmarked to all be finished by spring 2013.

Milestone

Carole Wildman, director of regeneration and development at the housing association, said: "Beginning phase two is a significant milestone in this cosmopolitan, canalside development."

Funds help arson-hit rugby club HQ rise from the ashes

WORK to rebuild an arson-hit rugby clubhouse in Walsall will start in the coming weeks, nearly three years after fire ravaged the building.

Aldridge Rugby Club was destroyed in the blaze in 2009, and plans for a new £350,000 building and changing rooms were approved by planners last year.

The club got a £50,000 grant from Sport England last week and has also landed £70,000 of funding from the rugby union authorities.

This means work will soon begin at the Bourne Vale site.

Players have been unable to use their own ground for games for three seasons.

Chairman of the club Alex Reed said it had been a "frantic" few weeks but he was delighted that the club was able to be moving forward on the project.

Modern

He said: "We have everything pretty much in place to be able to start work and make some real progress."

"Hopefully we will have a new clubhouse before the start of the season."

The 22-week programme of works will result in a clubhouse with changing rooms, a meeting room, dining space, showers, toilets and a bar.

Mr Reed added: "It will be much better than the old clubhouse and more modern."

"It will be more accessible to a greater range of people with disabled access, which the old building never had."

"We will have individual changing rooms so we will be able to have mixed gender use."

Players have had to play at other grounds for the last two seasons after fire ripped through changing rooms and the bar area and destroyed kit and equipment worth more than £5,000 in July 2009.

'Trophy dog' concern

BLACK Country locations are among eight hotspots for dog attacks in the West Midlands, as revealed in a new report.

Willenhall, Halesowen, Wednesfield and West Bromwich have all been named in the report by Birmingham City Council.

The report named Kingstanding in Birmingham as the worst area with 43 cases in the past three years. The Glebe Farm, Acocks Green and Newtown areas of the city make up the other worse areas.

There have been a number of high-profile dog attacks in the region in recent years. The report said: "Over recent years, there has been an increase in ownership of Staffordshire Bull Terrier type dogs, with these being viewed by some sectors of the community as 'trophy' or status dogs."

"Whilst these can be excellent pets if properly trained, in the hands of irresponsible owners they have the potential to pose a disproportionately high danger to public safety."

Rough Hay pupils including Connor Jones, 11, perform their Snowshow inspired by a theatre trip to Birmingham Hippodrome to see Slava's Snowshow

Snow biz

CHILDREN at a Darlaston school have been putting on their own show after taking inspiration from a production at Birmingham Hippodrome.

Youngsters from Rough Hay Primary went to see Slava's Snowshow just before Christmas and have used their own interpretation to recreate the performance, which involves an indoor blizzard.

A total of 28 pupils aged nine to 11 had been rehearsing to put on a performance sing words mine, in the style of Russian clown Slava Polunin.

They received help from dance students at Walsall College and performed their show for parents, fellow pupils and children from other schools.

The youngsters are also set to perform at the Wise-more campus after Easter.

Solar for flats

SOLAR panels will be fitted to a high-rise block of flats in Walsall under plans lodged with the council.

If the plans are given the go-ahead, Austin House, in Upper Forster Street, would have photovoltaic panels to generate additional power.

The panels would be mounted on a steel frame and fixed directly to the external south elevation of the building.

A singer does not literally bend over backwards to entertain us, but a contortionist does. Sadly, "literally" is becoming a meaningless word employed by people who like to appear educated but don't understand the texture, wit and richness of their own language.

Songbird flying to LA to record

STREETLY songbird Connie Talbot will be travelling to Los Angeles later this month to record new material.

The 11-year-old star shows no sign of waning as she continues to win over legions of fans across the globe. The schoolgirl has recently added a third world record to her collection after leading a choir of almost 7,000 children at the O2 arena in London.

Proud mother Sharon said the O2 was "bouncing" after Connie's rendition of chart-topping Adele's hit, Rolling In The Deep.

Her performances at the O2 was alongside the Young Voices, made up of primary-aged schoolchildren from London and surrounding counties.

Connie, who found fame on prime time TV show Britain's Got Talent, said: "It was definitely the best thing I've done. I wasn't expecting the reception I got, it was really good fun."

"I'd like to thank all the children who sang with me." Choir member Kristin Daw, aged eight, said: "Connie was amazing and we were all really excited when she came out to sing."

The latest Guinness World Record follows her accolades as the youngest artist to make the British charts and the youngest to release a gold-selling record. It is now five years since Connie charmed the nation with her rendition of Somewhere Over the Rainbow on the TV talent show.

Car parks on edge of town centre to charge

PARKING charges will be introduced on three car parks on the outskirts of Walsall town centre on April 1, highway chiefs have confirmed. The aim is to stop drivers clogging up spaces which are earmarked for businesses.

Moves to bring in £3-a-day fees and £30-a-month permits at the Town Wharf and Premier business parks have been in the pipeline for a number of months. The council says they will now come into force from the start of next month in the light of negotiations with firms in the area.

Machine check out move at libraries

SELF-SERVICE machines have been installed at Aldridge library, following the switch to new technology at Central and Brownhills libraries.

The machines were switched on at Aldridge last week and will be followed by Bloxwich before the end of the month.

Terminals are also being installed in Darlaston, Willenhall and the new Pelsall library which is under construction in High Street.

Leisure chief Councillor Anthony Harris said: "Things are moving really quickly now."

Feedback

"We are delighted with the feedback we have received about the self service terminals."

"We want to provide the best possible service we can to our customers and freeing up our staff to spend more time helping with everything from answering enquiries to running groups is very important to us."

To use the self-service terminals borrowers need to have their library card with them.

It is believed that some drivers have been parking for free and then heading by train to Birmingham city centre.

It was initially hoped that charges would be introduced at Frederick Street, Charles Street and Brook Street at the start of the year but formal legal orders needed to be advertised.

Transport chief Councillor Tom Ansell said no formal objections were lodged against the plans.

Requested

He said: "We were requested by business people to bring some form of control over parking."

"There have been people going to work who couldn't find a place to park."

"We have some people parking there and walking off to the train station and going onto the train into Birmingham."

He added: "It hasn't been done as a money-making scheme but to relieve the problems that the businesses have got."

There have been similar concerns over vehicles being left at Tesco's car park in the town centre, prompting the council to review its planning permission.

The availability of free spaces has seen a slump in the use of council-owned sites nearer the heart of the town centre.

A review of parking spaces is now being carried out by transport bosses.

There has been a trial of cheaper prices as the council considers ways to maximise usage.

Award for boy who saved his mother

A FIVE-year-old boy was praised at the annual West Midlands Ambulance Service awards. Despite speaking little English, Dennis Maczka acted quickly when his Polish mother collapsed at home in Walsall. He alerted neighbours who called ambulance crews. She made a full recovery.

Where there's a Will

Front Millie Osborne and Isabel McGauley watched by fellow pupils from St Michael's Primary School in Pelsall

YOUNGSTERS from six schools in Walsall put their own twist on a play written by William Shakespeare.

More than 170 pupils from St Michael's Primary and Ryders Hayes School, Pelsall Village School, Birchills Primary, Rushall JMI, and Blue Coat Comprehensive School were performing scenes from The Merchant of Venice at Leamore's Forest Arts Centre last week.

Parents, staff, governors and Walsall Mayor Councillor Garry Perry were invited to the event at Hawbush Road. The play was staged as part of a project with support of the Royal Shakespeare Company.

Joy Beppard, of St Michael's, said: "We've been able to put a twist on the settings. The wording is the same but we have edited the script to suit our children."

Motorists facing more roadworks

MOTORISTS are warned of almost four months of traffic disruption to the north-east of Walsall borough as a major roadworks scheme gets under way.

It takes place on a main commuter route on the border of Walsall and Lichfield. The £500,000 upgrade project on the A454 Aldridge Road and part of the A452 Chester Road will start early next month and continue for around 16 weeks.

Staffordshire County Council, which is carrying out the work, says it will cause short-term problems for long-term benefit.

Crews will replace damaged kerbs and also rebuild the carriageway on the A452 between Chester Road and Forge Lane. The work will take place at 8am-5pm, Monday to Friday.

Traffic flows will initially be controlled using temporary traffic signals but there will also be a series of temporary road closures.

County Councillor Erica Bayliss insists the investment will improve the busy A452.

Motorists are also facing delays in Aldridge until the end of the month as part of a series of road resurfacing improvements. Work along Northgate, Walsall Wood Road and Coppice Lane is not expected to be finished until Monday, March 26.

Singer aims to show her talent at NEC

A SINGER from Walsall is getting ready for the regional finals of a contest to find the best unsigned talent in the country.

Mother-of-two Sarah Yates, aged 25, has impressed the judging panel of the Live and Unsigned competition, and will battle it out at the NEC near Birmingham on Saturday, March 24, in a bid to make it to the final in London.

The singer, from Bescot, who beat hundreds of rivals to a spot in the live regional showcase, said she cannot wait to get back on stage.

Homeless help

WALSALL Community Church is opening its doors every first weekend of the month to the homeless.

Clothing, food, shelter and showers will be available from the Bradford Street venue.

Donations of food and toiletries are now being sought.

Benefits fraudster pocketed £32,5000

A MOTHER-of-three who pocketed more than £32,500 in a benefits con has been spared an immediate jail term.

Debi Dugmore from Bloxwich made a legitimate claim for state handouts when she was a single parent in April 2004, Wolverhampton Crown Court heard last week. But the 26-year-old did not tell officials when her partner, who worked as a fork lift truck driver, started living with her.

She continued to pick up housing benefit, income support and council tax relief to which she was not entitled, said prosecutor Miss Amrisha Parathalingam. The swindle netted Dugmore £32,669 in five years before she was found out.

She admitted that her partner had been working as a fork lift driver since October 2008 and his wages had been paid directly into her account.

Dugmore from Summerfield Road pleaded guilty to failing to notify a change of circumstances between October 2005 and January last year. She has started to repay the money and now owes £29,600.

She was given a six month jail sentence suspended under supervision for 18 months with a three month night time curfew by Recorder David Herbert.

Education move starts

THE first education services and up to 60 staff are on track to transfer back to Walsall Council from the start of April.

It is part of the phased switch following the axing of the £345 million deal with private sector firm Serco, which ends in summer 2013.

Serco came to Walsall in 2001 to improve poor standards in education. Around 400 staff will eventually move back to the council. The initial four services transferring first are the education business partnership, Alumwell children's centre, disability assessment services and school finance.

The decision to end the Serco agreement was made last summer with the council citing "major changes to Government policy", such as the numbers of schools becoming go-it-alone academies.

Council want housing instead of hostel at school site

LAND suggested for a probation hostel in Moxley will be put on the market with a request that it be used for residential use, council chiefs says, in a move that will delight campaigning residents.

Staffordshire and West Midlands Probation Trust said it was looking at the former Moxley Infants School in Moxley as the site for a potential hostel for up to 40 offenders.

The idea sparked controversy in the local community amid fears that the hostel could pose a threat and scupper future regeneration plans for the area. But Walsall regeneration chief Councillor Adrian Andrew said the land in Moxley Road would be put on the market with a development brief that it should only be used for new homes.

He said: "We have listened to local people."

The former Moxley Infants' site and neighbouring open space in Festival Avenue will be marketed for sale for the first time.

The sale follows a path set out four years ago when the land was classified as 'residential' following a council decision to declare the site surplus to its requirements.

Transparent

Councillor Andrew, Walsall Council Deputy Leader, said: "There has been a lot of speculation in the community about the former Moxley Infants school site. It's important that we continue to be open and transparent with the options for this parcel of land.

"Four years ago, through the Moxley framework study that I initiated, we looked at how we could best regenerate Moxley after years of being ignored, this land was identified as a potential residential opportunity."

"I can confirm that it has never been our intention to sell the land for any other purpose other than for new homes, and therefore it is not our intention to sell the site to the Probation Trust for their intended purposes. Our preferred scheme is family housing and we think this site could provide up to 50 new homes."

Consulted

A development brief which sets out the guidance for the future use of the site is now being completed following earlier work and will be consulted on with members of the local community.

"Walsall Council will then look to market the site from late April with bids being reported to the council's cabinet and the new purchaser preparing a planning application for their scheme."

Decision on 700 homes plan for green belt site deferred

A DECISION on a 700-home redevelopment of land in Walsall has been deferred after council chiefs demanded a fresh look at plans.

Applause rang out in the Walsall Council chamber as the announcement was made in front of 20 campaigning residents. The multi-million pound scheme, which would see green belt land known as The Lea in Blakenall built upon, went before a committee meeting last week.

The plans involve a "land swap" deal where the former Goscote estate would be turned over to green belt and The Lea used for homes.

Nearly 300 people signed a petition against the plan as they wanted to retain The Lea as open space and want more affordable homes. After hearing their concerns, the committee said the scheme should go back for more consultation.

Ecology

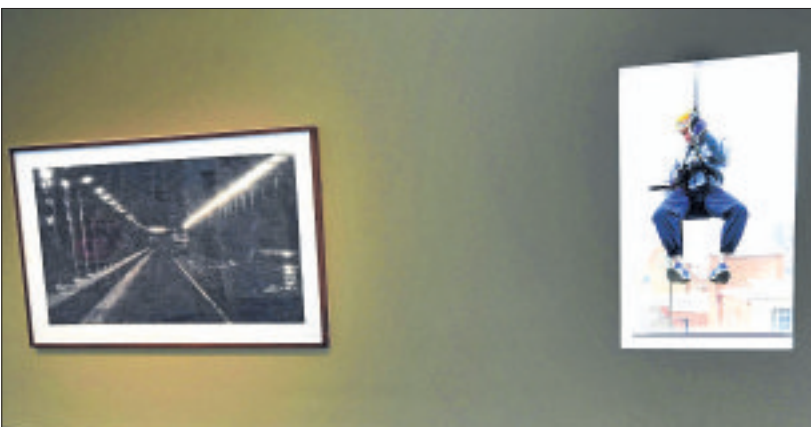

It will be back before planners by the end of June after applicant WHG has conducted further ecology reports, consulted more widely and considered whether the mix of homes proposed can be altered.

Kevin Wall, aged 68, of Hardy Road, who spoke against the plans, said: "I'm very pleased with the decision. I shall be even more pleased if they come back and say they are building on the Goscote estate instead of The Lea."

Offenders clear site for growing

OFFENDERS under supervision have cleared land for 20 new allotment plots at Victoria Road, Darlaston, as part of the Probation Service's Community Payback scheme. Plot holders have now been given keys to the site.

Just passing through – an abseiler slides past an exhibition at The New Art Gallery

Picture by Tim Sturges

IT looks just like another elaborate painting displayed on the wall of the iconic New Art Gallery in Walsall town centre.

But the portrait "work of art" is in fact the view of an abseiler making his way down the outside of the building to raise much-needed funds for charity.

It is a snapshot of just one of more than 100 members of staff from Walsall Manor Hospital who left their wards and offices work for a few hours last week to queue up for their turn to sail down the side of the 80ft gallery.

During the day, which aimed to raise awareness of No Smoking Day and also raise cash for the British Heart Foundation, there was also face painting, balloon making and a dance performance at the Gallery Square venue to boost funds.

Work starts on the jubilee bunting

ADULTS and children across Walsall can join craft workshops making bunting to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee this summer.

Staff at Walsall Museum are holding a free craft event for adults today (Thursday) from 12.30pm and children will get their turn on April 12. Jennifer Thomson, community history curator, said: "People will have the opportunity to decorate their pennants to their own design or use a decorative theme suggested by museum staff."

"At the end of the session Walsall will be able to boast some exclusive and original bunting that not only boosts the town but showcases the creativity that is in our borough."

"All the bunting made in the workshop will be sewn together and strung up around the town centre in late May."

Places are limited so contact the museum on (01922) 653116. Volunteers are needed to help sew the bunting together. Any willing helpers with sewing machines can call Olivia Clymer on 655832.

Garden gallery to show borough's artistic talent

A £50,000 GALLERY garden for artists, photographers and school pupils to display their work is to be created at Walsall Arboretum.

Students from Wolverhampton College's Cedars Horticultural Centre are working on the project.

More than 400 people signed a petition in support of a gallery garden at the arboretum, which is undergoing a £7.6 million revamp. Jackie Cocken and Jo Lester of the Arboretum User Group were behind the application and are responsible for the delivery of the project.

Contractor Jack Moody is set to begin work on the garden gallery off Lichfield Road next month and has already been working with the students on preparations.

Mrs Cocken said: "We are so excited about the gallery garden and can't wait to see the finished project. It is a showcase for local people of all ages and abilities. We want to bring art work from the people to the people as well as encourage visitors to come into the Arboretum and enjoy it."

Mrs Lester said: "We are going to have double-sided display cases to showcase paintings, drawings and poems and a plinth which we can use for sculptures and art work. The project is due to be finished in June and we're confident it will be a real asset to the Arboretum and Walsall."

by Catherine Dalton

Terraced

Part of the garden will be earmarked for design students and Walsall wood carver Graham Jones is designing a bespoke, hand-carved bench. Visitors will be able to enjoy a walk around the outdoor gallery. Shrubs and trees will be planted, a terraced area will be made of reclaimed rocks, and the Liz Lemon sculpture will be relocated.

Leisure chief Anthony Harris said: "I'm delighted that work will start soon and know that the combined driving force and enthusiasm of Jackie and Jo will ensure this project is a success. We will be able to maximise the gallery garden's potential as part of our Diamond Jubilee celebrations."

Ramblers on ridge walk

WALSALL Ramblers will be heading to the Suckley Hills near Lulsley in Worcestershire for a seven mile circular walk on Sunday.

After a climb, this moderate walk is along a wooded ridge giving outstanding views. Non-members are welcome and should contact the walk leader for further information on 01922 455257. See also the www.walsallramblers.co.uk website.

Measuring up for run

The Aldridge Running Club event, which attracts around 600 people, will take place on June 17.

The starting line will be at the Stick and Wicket Club at The Green. Club chairman Chris Sprules said: "There will be a 4.3k fun run for those less competitive runners. There will also be family and children runs. It's Father's Day so we want to ensure there's something for all the family."

Crisis meeting on threat to church's restoration

Holmes goes alone

Murder and mystery for the Great Detective – theatre manager Bruno Edwards gets into the mood for new Sherlock play Holmes Alone

MYSTERY fans will be able to see the most famous fictional detective at work on stage in Bloxwich.

Sherlock Holmes comes out of retirement at theatre venue Bookmark Bloxwich in Elmore Row on Saturday (March 24) at 7.30pm for a new adventure with a twist.

In the play Holmes Alone, by the

Don't Go Into The Cellar theatre company, the Great Detective is without Doctor Watson – who has remarried – as he investigates a spate of mysterious deaths on the Sussex Coast.

Tickets cost £8, while concessions are £6 and are available from Bloxwich Library in Elmore Row.

A £1 MILLION restoration project at Walsall's oldest church could be scrapped after a crisis meeting today (Thursday).

Church bosses at St Matthew's have to make tough decisions after the church was hit by a metal theft there left them with a £400,000 repair bill.

The project has also been hit by the refusal of a grant which could have funded the scheme. English Heritage turned down a funding bid from the church last year.

A meeting involving the Rev Colin Gibson, senior figures from the Diocese of Lichfield and Walsall Church Links will make a decision about the future of the restoration scheme.

Mr Gibson said: "We will decide whether to abandon the project and salvage a few bits of it or whether it's worth trying to keep on going. It hasn't been an easy time for us."

Extensive repairs are needed on crumbling plasterwork, iron-framed windows, the balcony and staircase of the church.

Other improvements are needed to the floor, replacement of chairs, new toilets, kitchen facilities, refurbishment of the children's chapel, upgrading of computer systems and landscaping the grounds.

It comes as thousands of pounds are being spent on a new roof for the church's community centre in St Matthew's Close after thieves stole 130 sq ft of copper last December – three months after £40,000 of lead was stolen from the church on Church Hill.

Superbug shut out

Restaurant appeals on holidays and Sunday ban

AN INDIAN restaurant, which was given the go-ahead to open in Bloxwich, has appealed against the condition of opening hours imposed on it as part of planning permission.

The restaurant, which will also have a takeaway and delivery service, was granted consent to change the use of a retail shop at 79 Turnberry Road into a food establishment in November last year.

But the conditions attached include one that the premises should not be open for business outside of 11am to 11pm Mondays to Saturdays, and should not be open on Sundays, Bank Holidays or public holidays.

The business has objected to this, claiming that surrounding businesses are open outside of these hours, and said it was a "nonsense" for a restaurant not to be open during public holidays.

Kevin Whittingham, representing the restaurant, said in the application to change the opening hours: "We acknowledge the fact that takeaway use has also been granted to these premises but takeaways associated with a restaurant do not normally have the same anti-social problems of those that are solely takeaway use."

"Banks holidays are without a doubt a restaurant's busiest period. To force this restaurant to close on these days is a nonsense."

Learn how to relax

A YOGA and relaxation class is held at All Saints Parish church, in Foley Road East, Streetly, from 9.30am to 11am every Saturday.

Classes also take place on Monday evenings from 7 to 8.15pm at Great Barr Methodist Church, in Sundial Lane, Great Barr.

Art with ale on tap

Landlady Hannah Hewish, artist Cameron Galt, landlord Jason Paddock and Ron Thompson, curator and artist ARTISTS are putting on their second art exhibition at their favourite watering hole in Walsall.

The White Lion pub in Caldmore, will host the display until Wednesday, March 28, in the "art room" at the pub. It is open daily and admission is free to view.

Gallery

Ron Thompson, artist and organiser of the display, said: "This is our second exhibition at the pub, the first show was very popular showing work by over 10 artists and for this exhibition we are expecting more."

"I'd like to thank the landlords and the White Lion's locals for supporting this unique initiative."

"We don't think there are many pubs with an art gallery!"

Borough's low education rankings are 'worrying'

Connor thanks lifesavers

WALSALL is 144th out of 152 council areas when it comes to the education standards of its youngest and oldest pupils, new figures reveal.

The borough is in the bottom six per cent for results at A-level and at early years foundation stage (pupils aged three to five). The results were revealed in a report on educational standards in the borough for 2011. Education chiefs said they recognised the poor table rankings but insisted there have been six years of improvement.

It comes as other figures show there have been improvements at GCSE, with 56.3 per cent of pupils getting five A* to C grades compared to 49.5 per cent in 2010. Walsall has the highest percentage of schools in the region rated 'outstanding' by Government watchdog Ofsted following inspections.

Councillor Barbara Cassidy, who chairs the children and young person's scrutiny panel, said the low ranking in two key areas was "worrying".

She added: "This does show that at early years foundation, for whatever reason, some children are coming to school that are not ready to learn. Some statistical analysis needs to be done. At key stage five there are also problems that obviously need to be looked at in order for us to move forward."

Below

With regard to early years foundation stage, the report says: "Walsall's performance is below the national average by eight percentage points and is five percentage points below the average level of our statistical neighbours." On key stage five (A-level), it says: "Performance within the whole of Walsall has declined from the 2010 results by 27.9 points per candidate. This is set against the national trend where attainment has improved slightly."

Serco, which compiled the report, insisted there had been improvements.

Connor Witton says thank you to Jason Read and Dave Butwell. A 10-YEAR-OLD Walsall boy has thanked lifeguards at a leisure centre who saved him from drowning.

Connor Witton, of Beechdale, Bloxwich, was swimming with his family at Wolverhampton Swimming and Fitness Centre in Bentley Bridge when the wave machine started and he began to struggle.

Connor could not stay afloat and as he fell sank lifeguard David Butwell spotted him and plunged into the pool. With the help of fellow lifeguard Jason Read, 23, the pair pulled Connor from the water to the relief of his mother, Jody, 34, who had not realised her son was in danger.

Jody, who lives with husband Steve, 54, and daughters Kacey, 14, and Amy, nine, said: "If it wasn't for the lifeguards, I don't know what would have happened."

Touring play is inspired by lives of deaf people

STORIES from deaf people across the Black Country and Birmingham are being brought to life on stage in Bloxwich tonight (Thursday).

A play, entitled Gold Dust, has been inspired by the history, memories and lives of deaf people, and will be performed by the Definitely Theatre group.

The play, which will be performed at Bookmark Bloxwich in Elmore Row on at 7.30pm, is fully accessible to both hearing people as well as deaf people. It is a joint project by the theatre group, Black Country Touring and the Deaf Cultural Centre.

Experiences

The challenge was to produce a play based on the real-life experiences of deaf people in Dudley, Walsall and Wolverhampton.

Tickets for Gold Dust cost £2 and are available from the venue on (01922) 655900.

Writer Andrew Muir said: "There was a great sense of community around this project. We really got a feel for deaf culture. Everyone had stories to tell, all sorts of people, in their late teens to late 80s."

The script is based on a man's experiences of working in Birmingham's Jewellery Quarter at Hockley.

Definitely Theatre was set up in 2002 by artistic director Paula Garfield with Kate Furby and Steven Webb. It is a professional deaf-led company creating productions in British Sign Language (BSL) and English.

The play, directed by Paula Garfield, will also be performed at Wolverhampton's Arena Theatre tomorrow (Friday) at 8pm (tickets £9/£7 concessions) and The Public in West Bromwich on Saturday at 8.30pm (tickets £10/£8 concessions), before going to London.

Church jumble sale

A JUMBLE sale will take place at Darlaston Methodist Church on Thursday, March 29. It is being held in Slater Street from 2pm. Admission is 20p.

Prayer with every balloon

Pupils from Cooper and Jordan School in Aldridge have released more than 50 balloons with prayers about war and famine attached

MORE than 50 balloons were released to mark a religion-themed day at an Aldridge school.

Youngsters at Cooper and Jordan attached a prayer to each of the balloons released as part of a project ongoing since February.

They have looked at serious issues in the world, such as war and famine.

The Year 6 pupils at the Church of England school on The Green took part in interactive prayer sessions. There was also story-telling and a presentation from John Bunyan's Pilgrims Progress.

Teacher Lucy Middleton said: "They really enjoyed it and had a good day. The balloon release was the icing on the cake."

Future of town's police station being considered

Tilly takes the title

Sheepdog Tilly and her owner Kate Watt celebrate success at Crufts

WITH her shaggy hair and puppy dog eyes, adorable old English sheepdog Tilly won over the judges at her first Crufts.

After six hours of pampering and preening, Tilly scooped the title of best puppy bitch at the show held at the NEC Birmingham.

Her delighted owner Kate Watt, of Rushall, said: "Tilly put on her best performance yet."

The pet, whose show name is Jeddep Romance Returns to Rischale, had a lap of honour in the show ring before being awarded the rosette.

Kate, aged 42, has been showing dogs at Crufts since the age of seven.

DISCUSSIONS are continuing over a new police station for Walsall.

Around £12 million has been earmarked for a police station in the town to replace the outdated one currently on Green Lane.

At first, it had been thought a new station would be built in Hatherton Road, closer to the town centre. It was later suggested that the current station could be knocked down and a new one built in its place.

No final decision over the future of the station has yet been made.

Caroline Schubert, spokeswoman for West Midlands Police Authority, said the police force was undergoing large-scale changes and talks were still ongoing.

Change

She said it was hoped a decision would be made soon.

"West Midlands Police is currently in the middle of a massive change programme which is looking at how we carry out major areas of our business such as call handling and custody facilities and making long-term decisions about where these should be sited," she said.

Hospital bid to cut back agency staff

WALSALL Manor Hospital is cutting back on agency workers as health chiefs try to save £11.6 million.

Manor Hospital spokeswoman Annabel Smith said the number of agency staff being used was likely to fall this year after the hospital was forced to increase their use over the winter months due to an outbreak of norovirus.

In January of this year, agency staff cost £332,538 of the hospital's £12m monthly pay budget, that was £28,000 up on the December figure.

Court and fine dodgers nabbed in police blitz

MORE than 80 people have been arrested and thousands of pounds cash seized during a police operation targeting wanted criminals across Walsall and Wolverhampton.

Officers formed specialist teams and carried out raids at the homes of fine dodgers and people who have repeatedly failed to turn up to court.

Those detained in the operations were then put in front of dedicated 'Crackdown Courts' to be dealt with by magistrates immediately.

In the latest raids on Thursday and Friday, 27 people were arrested in Walsall with about £10,000 in fines being recovered.

Earlier action had seen more than 60 people arrested across Wolverhampton and £8,000 in cash seized.

Processed

Sergeant Helen Carver, who led the operation, said: "This operation gives us the opportunity to use dedicated teams of officers to focus purely on locating and arresting those people who are currently classed as being wanted across the Black Country. This also sends a clear message to those that do not comply with their community and court orders. These individuals are brought to justice in an effective, efficient manner."

During the raids, dubbed Operation Crackdown, officers arrested wanted offenders and processed them through mobile police stations set up in the two areas. Offenders were then searched before being taken before magistrates.

Freight firm taken over

WILLENHALL-based delivery group Nightfreight has been taken over by a bigger rival in a deal that will see £20 million invested in the next few years.

Staff have been reassured that there are no plans to cut jobs in the wake of the takeover. The company, in Ashmore Lake Way, employs around 2,000 people across 53 sites nationwide, running a fleet of more than 1,000 vehicles.

Sheila is culture champion

Walsall Museum volunteer Sheila Shreeve has been chosen as Arts and Business Cultural Champion for the West Midlands

WORKING with costumes at Walsall Museum as a volunteer for 30 years has been a dream come true for Sheila Shreeve. But the 76-year-old grandmother has even more reason to celebrate after being chosen as Arts and Business Cultural Champion for the region.

It comes after the honorary costume curator was given an MBE in 1999 for services to historic dress. Mrs Shreeve, of Hawthorn Road, Sutton Coldfield, joined The Costume Society in the 1960s and began collecting costumes and textiles, specialising in lace.

She founded the West Midlands Costume and Textiles Society in 1979, and in 1982 she retired from teaching at primary schools in Birmingham after 22 years.

Now that West Midland Safari Park is fully open for summer we have 40 fantastic family tickets to be won to see these delightful little penguins and a whole lot more. As well as visiting the four-mile self-drive safari with its collection of animals from all over the world, there are some marvellous attractions to visit on foot, too.

Penguin Cove, naturally, is the first to explore. Found in Discovery Trail with its variety of splendid all-weather attractions like Twilight Cave; Mark O'Shea's Reptile World, Creepy Crawlies, Seaquarium and Sea Lion Show, the all-new penguin exhibit is taking centre stage.

Not forgetting of course Walking with Lemurs - the largest lemur walk-through in the UK. This is the perfect way to come face to face with lemurs and their babies. This exhibit is located in natural woodland beside a centuries old lake, home to a variety of lemur.

Then, there's an African themed interactive village that comes complete with village 'huts' and an African home that allows visitors to peek behind the scenes to catch a glimpse of what life could be like in an African Village.

There are also plenty of friendly animal encounters that include the opportunity to feed some of the Somali sheep, Pygmy goats and Cameroon sheep.

Last but not least, is Meerkat Mayhem, located within the African

Parking fines bring in £18,000 for the council

Dig in for the jubilee

Marking the Queen's Diamond Jubilee – pupils from Fibbersley Park Zak Carter and Alissa Alexander with nursery teacher Amy Rock PUPILS from primary schools in Willenhall rolled up their sleeves to help plant more than 100 trees to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

The youngsters dug in at Willenhall Memorial Park in Pinson Road. Children from Fibbersley Park Primary, in Noose Lane, and St Giles C of E Primary School, in Walsall Road, took part in the jubilee scheme.

Six million trees will be planted across the country to celebrate the Queen's 60 years on the throne.

CONTROVERSIAL on-street parking charges which came into force on 19 roads in Walsall town centre a year ago have raked in £180,000 in fines.

The fees, brought in on March 7 last year, virtually eradicated free parking in the town centre. Council chiefs said the money would be ploughed into other parking schemes across the borough. But traders claim the charges have hit them hard.

The 20p-per-10-minute fee is in force on 310 parking spaces in 19 town centre streets, including Hatherton Street, Station Street and Lichfield Street.

Council bosses said they were still analysing and compiling the results for the first year of the charges and will present them to the council's cabinet later this year.

Transport chief Tom Ansell said: "To date, approximately £180,000 has been raised from penalty charge notices however this is used to off-set the cost of operating and maintaining a range of parking facilities across the borough."

Refused

It means that if all fines were paid at the higher rate of £50, around 3,600 penalties have been given to drivers who overstayed their time limit. If it was paid at the lower rate of £25, more than 7,000 fines have been dished out.

Businesses in Ablewell Street had launched an appeal for 30-minutes of free parking but council chiefs refused, saying the new rules were to prevent people clogging up spaces all day.

Egghead is patron

BROWNHILLS Musical Theatre Company has signed up one of TV's former Eggheads as an honorary patron.

Quiz expert CJ de Mooi is lending his support to the theatre group as it prepares its latest show The Producers which will be performed at the Lichfield Garrick from May 1 to 5. Tickets range from £13 to £17. Call 01543 412121 or 07532189689.

£1m centre to provide care of youngsters

WORK has started on a new £1 million pound complex that will offer respite care for youngsters.

The centre in Primley Avenue, Walsall, will provide short-term specialist support services to families of disabled young people.

Work is expected to take around six months, with the new facilities opening late autumn.

It will replace Eldon House in Eldon Street, a 1970s building that is considered no longer fit for purpose.

Disabilities

The aim of the new centre is to offer more services and to better support needs.

Cabinet member for children's services Councillor Rachel Andrew said: "This new purpose-built centre really will be the jewel in the crown of our specialist services for children with disabilities."

"It is the last of a whole programme of improvements for Walsall families, and I know its opening is eagerly awaited."

The project is being funded through Walsall Council's capital fund, in line with the Government's Aiming High strategy to transform short-break provision – formerly known as respite care – for severely disabled children.

The council is looking for new tenants for the existing centre in Eldon Street, once the building which is used by up to 30 young people, is vacated later this year.

Roundabout sponsorship raising less than hoped

LESS than half of council-owned roundabout advertising boards to promote businesses in Walsall are currently taken up.

Of the 38 boards available on traffic islands across the borough, recent figures show just 18 are being used, meaning the authority is losing more than £20,000 a year.

The concept of getting private firms and organisations to sponsor roundabouts was launched in 2006 in a bid to raise cash.

Council chiefs said proceeds would be used to pay for shrub and flower planting and cover upkeep costs and generate revenue.

Hiring

But just 18 of them are currently taken and although around £21,500 is set to be generated it is lower than half what could be collected.

Council leader Mike Bird said: "We currently have 38 advertising boards on the borough's roundabouts which can potentially generate £45,500 of income for the council."

It comes after it recently emerged money from hiring out Walsall's two historic town halls is also thousands of pounds short of target.

Bookings at Darlaston and Walsall town halls have failed to reach their expected levels.

Council chiefs had been looking to rake in £67,000 but it is due to fall at least £5,000 short of that target.

New care unit opens

A CEREMONY to cut a ribbon marked the opening of a new specialist unit at a care home in Walsall.

Staff at Fernwood Court in Bentley gathered on Friday as Four Seasons Health Care operations director Andrea Gamble unveiled the nine-bed unit on the third floor. It will be used by people who have been discharged from hospital.

Staff at the Wolverhampton Road care home will help them to become independent again during their stay.

The floor previously housed a mental health unit which has been relocated to another part of the building.

The rooms were redecorated and refurbished with new carpets and furniture to complete the transformation.

Patriotic music at centre

THE Staffordshire Band will perform its annual St George's Day Concert at Walsall's Forest Arts Centre on April 20.

The concert will feature the best of English music, including Land of Hope and Glory and Jerusalem.

Tickets for the concert are £5 and the concert starts at 7.30pm.

BROWNHILLS TOWNSWOMEN

THE Annual General Meeting was attended by 38 members and two visitors. Two new members were also welcomed.

A brief ordinary meeting followed to bring members up-to-date with forthcoming activities. A thank you was made to Floss Dickinson who stood down from the committee after 30 years.

After refreshments, a talk by Kate Jergas followed on her work in Kenya. She and a team of three build new classrooms and buy uniforms and educational equipment. They also run business training classes.

Kate sold handmade goodies and accepted donations to help her cause.

The next meeting is on April 16 at 7.30pm in the Lichfield Suite, Memorial Hall, Lichfield Road.

Daffodils in bloom for polio campaign

Ken Thomas presents a certificate of merit to Alder Coppice School pupils

IN NOVEMBER of last year the Rotary Club of Sedgley and Wombourne presented a number of daffodil bulbs to local schools as part of their "Eradicate Polio" publicity programme.

The children potted up the bulbs and have been looking after them over the winter months. The bulbs are now in bloom and the children are giving the bowls of flowers to residents of local care homes.

Rotarian Ken Thomas presented a certi-

Olympic special trains set to link West Midlands with the Games

OLYMPIC Special train services will be put on to ferry thousands of tourists and ticket-holders between the West Midlands and London during the summer games, new plans have revealed.

Bosses at the region's 2012 committee are drawing up the transport plans, and they say the games will inject around £1 billion into the Midlands' economy.

Hundreds of thousands of tourists from around the world are expected to descend on the region during the weeks surrounding the event, spending money and giving the area a much-needed boost.

Committee chairman David Moorcroft revealed he is in talks with major train companies including Virgin, Chiltern and London Midland to try to encourage visitors to stay in the Midlands by stepping up transport links.

Bonus

"It would be a major bonus. Extra services will essentially be necessary to cater for the extra people," he said. "Visitors want to know they can get on a train relatively late at night and get home quickly and easily. "Trains to London are always busy on normal days so it is an important issue. We want to see Olympic Specials."

He said the West Midlands had benefited from the games more than any other region outside London, with £520m secured in business contracts won by 311 companies across the region. Among them is Carillion, IRC Carocelle in Walsall, Express Shuttles of Brierley Hill and Wolverhampton-based Tarmac.

"The great thing is, being involved in the Olympics enhances the reputation of these companies, and world-wide sporting events are big business," Mr Moorcroft added.

"The economic benefits are huge. Overall, we expect the financial benefit to be creeping up to the £1bn mark, which is just fantastic."

Birmingham is hosting the US and Jamaican track and field teams. The 160-strong US track and field team will train in and around the city.

The 60 members of the Jamaican track and field team, including the world's fastest man, Usain Bolt, will be based in the city.

Pupils have X Factor

A SCHOOL in the Black Country held an X Factor-style talent contest to showcase pupils' skills.

Blue Coat School, in Walsall, ran the competition in order to raise money for charity, at the same time as putting 12 acts on stage to show their vocal skills.

The Birmingham Street school held two performances of the singing contest, one for an audience of pupils and one during the evening for parents to also attend.

Deputy head at the 647-pupil school Stuart Jones said the shows raised funds for the school's charity of the year, Islamic Relief.

Crowd

He said: "There was quite a crowd here watching the shows. The shows were, first and foremost, to promote music within the school but also so we could raise money for charity. Each year we raise £4,000 to £5,000 for charity, which is quite substantial."

He said the show was the brainchild of the head of music, Glen Barron.

A SECONDARY school has officially been launched as an academy with the help of some special guests, including youngsters from a hospice helped by the school

Self-made millionaire Stephen Joynes, owner of Hoar Cross Hall in Staffordshire, dropped in to the new Joseph Leckie Academy in Walsall to help declare its news direction. Mr Joynes MBE grew up just a stone's throw away from the Walstead Road school.

Joseph Leckie school has been serving the local community in the Delves for the past 70 years now and its change to academy status is aimed at further improving the education it offers to youngsters.

The afternoon included a speech by Mr Joynes along with headteacher Keith Whittlestone, while a cheque for £1,000 raised by pupils was handed over to Acorns Children's Hospice.

by Catherine Dalton

Staff and youngsters from the hospice attended the ceremony, while music was provided by the school band.

Richard Thomas, deputy head, said: "It was inspiring to hear Mr Joynes speak."

Guests had the chance to view the Joseph Leckie School log book, a handwritten record of events at the school which opened in 1939.

Crooks' cash helps group

POLICE have handed £500 to a Willenhall community group after confiscating cash from convicted criminals.

The Friends of Rough Wood got a cheque from police community support officer Suki Lali to help fund projects at Rough Wood Country Park, off Wood Lane.

The money was handed over from a pot of cash funded by the sale of property confiscated by court order from offenders then sold.

Some of the locks found in a garage near Wolverhampton

The patented claw-shackle padlock, of the company's premium products

The impressive haul of vintage locks which shows the range made in the Black Country

Discovery unlocks industry's past

AS FAR as Michael Hamson was concerned, he was just doing a favour for an old friend when he started tidying her garage.

Old flower pots, car batteries, the odd tyre, it was filled with the usual junk that many of us acquire over time. Then he pulled out a battered old packing crate. And he could scarcely believe his eyes.

Locks. And lots of them. Victorian locks, Edwardian locks, big locks, small locks, but all of them made by Black Country lock-maker Enoch Jones.

"I knew her family had something to do with the lock industry, but never really thought anything of it," says Michael, a retired machine operative from Codsall.

Eileen Jones is the grand-daughter of the well-known Willenhall lockmaker Enoch Jones. For people with an interest in this fascinating industry, this haul found in a garage on the outskirts of Wolverhampton must seem akin to the discovery of the Staffordshire Hoard.

It's not just locks. There is masses of marketing literature. Bold, garishly coloured brochures so typical of the 1920s, explaining the benefits of the Enoch Jones patent claw lock. Sales ledgers and order books going back to the 1860s.

There is even a certificate from then prime minister Stanley Baldwin, presented to Enoch's son Thomas Beddowe Jones.

"This is a truly significant find," says

by Mark Andrews

Jenny Walkey, of the Black Country Living Museum. "So much of the history relating to the lock works of Willenhall has disappeared."

For Michael, who is 67, the hard work came with the next bit: cleaning and sorting the locks, and matching them up with their keys.

"My grandchildren Sophie, Stephen and Laura spent many hours helping with that," he says.

In the 19th century, Willenhall was one of the world's leading centres for lockmaking, with vast swathes of the town's population employed in the trade.

John Enoch Jones started his lock company around 1860 at 36, Doctors Piece, just off Walsall Road, and he patented many innovations over the following years.

"He was a very good craftsman and engineer," says Michael.

His son Thomas, who was born in 1888, trained as a plumber, but ended up working for his father in a management role.

The factory was at the back of their house in Doctors Piece, and remained there after they moved to Gypsy Lane. The company continued trading until the mid-1950s, when Thomas Jones' doctor ordered him to retire at the age of 68.

Thomas Jones' daughter, Eileen, was born in 1920.

"He then decided to sell the company after almost a hundred years of trading to its long-term rival, Walsall Locks & Cart-gear," says Michael.

"One of their locks was amongst the crate of samples dated 1942."

"Eileen can clearly remember how upset the staff were when Thomas announced the takeover of Enoch Jones & Sons."

The Jones family moved to Eileen's present home, just outside Wolverhampton, in 1944, and that is where Michael discovered the locks, 68 years on.

The find appears to be salesman's samples, with tags on explaining what each lock is. Among them are locks designed for the General Post Office, London North Eastern Railways, London, Midland & Scottish Railways, the Great Western Railway, and several South American railway operators.

"They are in very good condition," says Michael. "One of my favourites is a Victorian prison lock, it is a great big thing, with VR stamped on it."

The order books show a huge order placed by an Argentinian Railway company for 2,000 claw locks at eight shillings each, with a one shilling discount for quantity.

At the time, most of South America's locomotives and rolling stock were made by British manufacturers, and for some of these orders Jones worked in partnership with another well-known lockmaker, Arthur Linley.

"Enoch made improvements to Linley's lock to stop the jaws being forced open which he then patented in 1921. The patent number is stamped into the lock face."

Chubb

The old company ledgers list the names of thousands of old companies dating back to the 1860s. Many have disappeared, but a few of the names are still with us.

"Eileen told me that the Chubb Brothers kept asking Enoch to join them, but he stayed put," says Michael.

Doctors Piece has now been cut in half to make way for a road reconstruction, and a Morrisons store stands where Enoch's factory and house stood at number 36.

All that remains is the brass plaque. Michael, who had no interest in the lock industry prior to the find, admits he has now become something of an "anorak" on the subject, and is fascinated by the skills that these forgotten men of the Black Country possessed.

"I think it is extremely important that we remember our industrial heritage," he says.

"This piece of lockmaking history could have ended up at the tip if Thomas Beddowe Jones hadn't brought it home 60 years ago."

Michael Hamson, historian Malcolm Millward and Eileen Jones examine a ledger from her grandfather Enoch Jones's lock manufacturing business

Norovirus - please read

Important information on how to stop the spread of winter bugs in our community.

Before you visit your friend or relative in a hospital or care home setting please make sure you have done everything to prevent the spread of germs.

If you think you have a winter bug please:

- Stay at home until you have had two days without symptoms (feeling sick, being sick and/or diarrhoea)
- Wash your hands after using the toilet
- Keep your house clean especially the toilet, flush handles, taps and door handles - these can be cleaned with a bleach based product
- Don't prepare food for other people

If you have symptoms you can normally manage the symptoms yourself

- The symptoms usually last 1-2 days
- Keep drinking fluids - rehydration powder/drinks can be obtained from the pharmacist (ask a friend to get them for you)
- Antibiotics will not help
- If symptoms are severe speak to your pharmacist, NHS Direct or GP by phone for advice on managing your symptoms

Avoid catching germs by washing your hands with warm running water and soap or liquid soap before eating and after going to the toilet.

Please see guidance on how to wash your hands well.

Handwashing Technique

Wash hands using the following eight steps.

- 1. Wet hands under running water. Take a measure of soap.
- 2. Work into hands, palm to palm.
- 3. Right hand over back of left and vice versa.
- 4. Rub palm to palm, fingers interlaced.
- 5. Back of left fingers to right palms. fingers interlocked and vice versa.
- 6. Rotational rubbing of right thumb clasped in left hand and vice versa.
- 7. Rub left palm with clasped fingers of right hand and vice versa.
- 8. Left wrist with right hand and vice versa.

Rinse hands under running water and dry thoroughly

Handwashing is the most important way to stop the spread of germs

It's grim for job seekers

THE grim news is that the latest unemployed claimant figures locally and throughout the Black Country are simply getting worse.

The percentage involved in my constituency is 11.5 per cent on the latest figures issued by the Office for National Statistics. This represents the fortieth highest of all 650 UK constituencies.

Youth unemployment in my constituency amongst the 18-24 year olds shows that nearly 18 per cent in that group are claiming jobseekers allowance (JSA).

I initiated a Commons debate last year about such youth joblessness in the constituency.

The number of claimants overall continues to climb and, in the Black Country as a whole, seven per cent of the working age population are currently claiming JSA. This involves nearly 48,000 individuals.

However bad these figures are, they do not in fact represent all those who are unemployed; the main reason is that those who are jobless and want to resume employment are not eligible for jobseekers allowance if their partner is in full time employment. As to be expected, this applies to a large number of women.

As in the 1980s, large scale unemployment has returned and unless there are major changes in this week's Budget all the indications are that the situation will continue to get worse.

Skilled staff must get better pay

RE: YOUR item "Too few skilled workers for expanding business".

The reasons why companies can't recruit skilled workers are numerous.

■ There has been NO real training in this country for 25 plus years, thereby leading to an ever decreasing older workforce.

■ Skilled workers have been made redundant or thrown out of work so they have now secured alternative full-time employment elsewhere, out of the trade.

■ The remuneration being offered is nowhere near what should be paid for the skills required.

■ Firms are offering three months roll-over contracts, so there is no job security.

■ Working conditions in some factories are still not much better than they were 40 years ago, ie lighting, machinery and lifting of heavy tooling.

Therefore, in summary, firms must offer better wages, conditions and job security to entice skilled workers to join them.

Darlaston was better off running own affairs

IT HAS taken Walsall Council four years, since it was originally agreed by a local regeneration committee, to finally use the land of the former Moxley Primary and Infants School site for family housing.

It is a terrible indictment on Walsall Council that elderly, young families and most vulnerable had to suffer the ordeal of proposals to build a probation hostel on the site. This outrage was condemned by everyone in Moxley and Darlaston.

Darlaston Enterprise zone and new road developments may bring jobs and enterprise in the next five to 10 years but, the urban areas of Moxley and Darlaston have been blighted by the lack of growth and investment in housing and jobs.

Eleven years of Tory regeneration has left us with huge housing waiting lists and record levels of youth unemployment.

The alarming, and inept way in which Walsall Council has failed to work with local people to offer agreed opportunities and bring new homes for local people, to take up brownfield sites, has left the local communities in little doubt that Darlaston people were better off when they were organising their own business from Darlaston Town Hall!

Call to preserve hoard site

SINCE the Staffordshire Hoard was discovered in a Brownhills farmer's field in 2009, the reactions of historians sent the media into a frenzy with bodies fighting each other to gain access in order to showcase the find.

Since then, not one expert has had the foresight to implement a plan to preserve the original site for future generations.

Several ideas have been put forward by local laymen but, as yet, they have been ignored by so-called experts, despite the fact that in a recent BBC 2 documentary, these same experts were telling us of the importance of this site in the overall story of the Staffordshire Hoard.

Road signs telling of the hoard have been erected miles away from the site, as if a conspiracy exists to keep it a secret.

We as a body representing the people of Brownhills wish to let it be known that we will be supporting any campaign to erect either a monument, or at a later date a visitors' centre, in or as near as possible, to the land on which the Anglo-Saxon hoard was found.

Night club closes

ANOTHER great Wolverhampton institution has bitten the dust, I'm talking about the closure of Oceana. My son has been a doorman there for many years and is gutted at losing a job that he really loved. I wonder that if this Government would stop making it so difficult for people to make ends meet more people would have a little more money in their pockets to spend and would therefore be able to patronise these businesses more.

Penthouse scheme for former site of shop block

A BLOCK of dilapidated shops and flats in the heart of Walsall town centre will be demolished to make way for a modern complex under plans lodged with the council.

A developer has applied to bulldoze the two-storey building made up of three shops and two flats in Broadway, and construct a four-storey complex with five apartments including a penthouse.

The building currently standing on the site was constructed in 1930s and is "in need of much maintenance".

The new building would include three three-bedroom flats and two two-bedroom homes, with parking and amenity space at the back.

There will only be five parking spaces plus one disabled space for the occupants of the flats, however, due to the transport links in the town centre.

by Hannah Webster

Gary Dearden, representing the unnamed developer during the planning process, said in the application documents: "The building is in need of much maintenance, so the decision has been made to propose a re-build to modern standards."

"The number of car parking spaces listed in Walsall Council's guide is a maximum of 1.5 spaces per flat."

"However, due to the high frequency of public transport, it is anticipated that the occupants will make use of this."

Prize money to help children's hospital

A SCHOOL in Walsall beat two others in a general knowledge quiz to win £50 for a charity of their choice. Pupils in Year nine at Barr Beacon Language College triumphed at the inter-schools quiz against children in the same year at Shire Oak Academy and Brownhills School. They will donate the money to Birmingham Children's Hospital.

View the landscapes

Jean Walker shows off some of her landscapes which are on display at Blakenall Village Centre in Walsall LANDSCAPES by a talented Burntwood artist are on display at a gallery in Walsall. They feature scenes of Italy to the rolling hills of Cannock Chase.

Mother-of-two Jean Walker began painting around 16 years ago when her children left home and the fruits of her labour are now on show. The 63-year-old said she enjoys the "freedom of expression" that painting gives her.

Her latest display features oil paintings of Italian vistas, as well as more local landscapes such as Lichfield Cathedral and Cannock Chase. Mrs Walker, of Cannock Road in Burntwood, said: "It's lovely to have my work on display." The exhibition is on show at the Atrium Gallery at Blakenall Village Centre, in Thames Road, Blakenall.

More Oliver please!

Oliver! Birmingham Hippodrome
CONSIDER yourself well in if you've got tickets for Oliver in Brum because this rollicking, rumbustious production from Cameron Mackintosh will be the hottest ticket in town.

The West End producer was a child when he sat spellbound through the original 1960 production of Lionel Bart's musical, based on Oliver Twist by Charles Dickens, and he has lavished West End production values with big cast and impressive sets on this touring version of the last London revival.

Credit to TV viewers' favourite Jodie Prenger but this production has surely found a classic Nancy in Samantha Barks (who was third in the TV Nancy search I'd Do Anything). A couple of years experience including a stint in Les Mis has transformed this raven-haired youngster into an impressive leading lady. Radiating determination and vulnerability, her rendition of As Long As He Needs Me was a showstopper.

Neil Morrissey is no singer but turned that to his advantage as Fagin, half-talking his witty lines for You've Got To Pick A Pocket Or Two and Reviewing The Situation. One flaw - this production has a spot in which the celeb playing Fagin muses aloud to the audience. A "can we fix it" comment got an easy laugh but this nod to Morrissey's Bob The Builder alter-ego shattered the illusion in an atmospheric production.

Urchins

The street urchins were an adorable mob. Young Harry Polden was a demure but strong-voiced Oliver whilst Midland lad Max Greisbach was the archetypal sassy Artful Dodger. Iain Fletcher was a seriously scary vicious Bill Sykes, complete with bulldog, and there was a superb cast of grotesque Dickensian characters, amongst them Suzi Chard's monstrous Widow Corney and CJ Johnson's cadaverous Mrs Sowerberry.

Director Laurence Connor's production does the late Lionel Bart's songs justice in a show that teems with life like a Cockney tenement or a London street, thanks to Matthew Bourne's frenetic, sometimes saucy, choreography.

Oliver will leave you wanting more. It continues at the Hippodrome to April 21. Brian Conley takes over as Fagin and Cat Simmons as Nancy from April 3.

HOW GOD MADE THE ENGLISH

BBC2, 8.20pm

For a long time, received wisdom suggested that God had a beard, was in His late fifties, lived in the Cotswolds and drank Earl Grey. The English have long claimed the supreme being as their own. Well, this new documentary series may or may not dissuade the masses from embracing that long-held belief. It seems the English may not have as much in common with God as they had hoped. In episode two, A Tolerant Nation?, Diarmaid MacCulloch, presenter of the award-winning series A History of Christianity, challenges the commonly held assumption that the English are historically exceptionally tolerant.

TITANIC

ITV1, 9pm

The problem with bringing a true-life story to the screen is that everybody knows how it's going to end. So what can a writer do to keep the humble viewer on the edge of their seats? Well, if you're Julian Fellowes, the answer is to make the tale more human. Now, after weeks of seeing tantalising trailers, Fellowes' lavish, four-part take on the sinking of the Titanic is here at last, and we'll be able to see for ourselves whether he's managed to breathe new life into a story we probably think we already know inside out. The opening edition introduces viewers to the wide variety of people about to board the ship in Southampton. Linus Roache, Celia Imrie and Sophie Winkleman star.

An artist's impression of a typical Taylor Wimpey home

TAYLOR Wimpey, which builds new homes across the West Midlands has been awarded the maximum five star-rating for customer satisfaction in an independent survey by the Home Builders' Federation (HBF).

The UK-wide survey from the HBF is sent to all new home purchasers eight weeks after their moving-in date, and asks them to rate their house-builder on the service they received and the quality of their new home.

From this, each company is awarded a star rating from one to five.

Nine out of 10 Taylor Wimpey customers said they were satisfied with the quality of their new home and would recommend Taylor Wimpey to a friend. Both results officially rank Taylor Wimpey as a five-star builder.

Pride

Jan Titley, regional sales and marketing director for Taylor Wimpey, comments: "We take great pride in putting our customers first and ensuring that their whole move goes as smoothly as possible.

"It's incredibly rewarding for our regional teams to receive this independent recognition for our approach to customer service and the quality of the homes we build." Taylor Wimpey is currently building high-quality new homes at the following developments across the region:

Spend now to save on heating bills later

REPLACING your boiler can be expensive and disruptive, but if the boiler's old, it's worth it.

According to the Energy Saving Trust, swapping an old boiler for an A-rated condensing one – and upgrading the heating controls at the same time – could reduce your fuel bills by up to £300 a year.

"An ageing heating system 15 years old or more may be wasting as much as 30p of every pound spent on heating your home or water," says Martyn Bridges of boiler manufacturer Worcester, Bosch Group.

"Older boilers are also likely to have a standing pilot light, which could be costing in the region of £50-£60 per year."

Traditional

In all but exceptional circumstances, new gas boilers have, by law, to be condensing ones.

They're the most energy efficient because they recover heat from the gases that escape through the flue.

There are different types of condensing boiler, though. Traditional boilers store hot water in a cylinder (usually in the airing cupboard), while combi boilers heat the water on demand.

With a combi, you save space and you don't have to plan ahead to get hot water.

But if your household uses a lot of hot water and your home has multiple bathrooms, a boiler with a cylinder may be more suitable. Your installer will be able to advise you.

It's illegal for anyone other than an installer registered with Gas Safe Register to fit or work on a gas boiler.

At www.gassaferegister.co.uk you

At www.gassaferegister.co.uk, you can find a registered installer can find a registered installer. It's best to go with an installer who's been recommended to you, but failing that, ask for references or look for customer feedback online.

Regulations

Replacing a gas boiler usually costs between around £2,000 and £3,000, including the cost of the boiler itself.

A registered installer will be able to ensure that their work complies with building regulations and should provide you with a certificate when the new boiler is fitted, which you may need when you sell your home.

All gas boilers should be serviced annually. "Even if your boiler is not that old," says Bridges, "it is important that it has an annual inspection from a qualified engineer."

GARDENING

thechronicle

Add water and watch your options expand

MOST daffodils will have finished flowering by April and so too will other spring bulbs.

At this time of the year there are usually only tall tulips still waiting to stun us with their bright colours and exciting displays.

After patio pots of spring flowering bulbs have finished flowering plant the whole compost ball of root growth out into the open garden where the plants can continue to grow ready for a second display next year.

This will save you regular watering of the pots and provide the bulbs with steady moisture from the surrounding soil.

While manufacturers of potting composts are gradually reducing the amount of peat they put into our compost, they are also marking their bags so everyone can see how far each individual product formulation has progressed in meeting the Government's target for completely peat-free growing.

Expand

Manufacturers are also working hard to provide growing media that are completely peat-free and this year Expand 'n Gro from Miracle-Gro looks to have some exciting benefits.

It is sold in a lightweight bag that is easy to carry to the car or in the garden and is recommended not only for potting up seedlings and young plants but also for use when planting more mature plants out into garden soil.

Each bag expands up to three times its own volume to make 50-litres of enriched compost when you add the required amount of water.

Expand 'n Gro has some great environmental credentials as it is made from dried and compressed coir, a waste product of coconut growing. It's also quick and easy to use. Place some compost straight from the bag into either a planting hole or a pot.

Add tap water and you will see the

Add water to bag of Expand 'n Gro and watch the contents get bigger compost turn rich dark brown as it absorbs the liquid, at the same time expanding and growing as you watch it grow to three times its original volume.

Adding water to the compost is a delight to watch – especially for children who often think it is magic, not just Miracle-Gro expertise that makes you smile.

At this time of the year you will be using these sorts of compost indoors to prick out seedlings and pot on plug plants that you have recently purchased. Outside coir composts are ideal when planting out new herbaceous flowers and permanent shrubs and trees into open soil.

The open structure is ideal for planting in the soil as it creates 90 per cent more air space for plant roots to thrive, ensuring fantastic root growth – vital for perfect plant performance.

It holds lots of moisture and retains water for longer – so it doesn't dry out so quickly – and it feeds for up to six months.

Audi sets pace in battle for prized saloon market

THE BATTLE for sales in the premium mid-sized family saloon market is intense, with the majority of customers choosing one of three German makes – Audi, BMW and Mercedes.

These three makes accounted for 93 per cent of UK premium sales in the UK last year and the competition is getting hotter all the time. Audi is first off the starting block with a new Audi A4 saloon and Avant (estate) model and shortly BMW will introduce a new 3-Series.

While the new A4, like all new models is slightly bigger than the outgoing version, the most significant changes are in the engine range.

Audi is now putting more economical and friendly green engines into the A4 range – and there are 110 different models to choose from! Average fuel consumption overall is dropped by 11 per cent and torque has also been increased making some of the petrol engines very competitive with the diesel versions.

In all there are three petrol engines and six diesel engines. They are all turbocharged and all feature the economy start/stop and recuperation systems.

The most exciting engine, a new 1.8 litre petrol TFSI engine pushing out 170 PS was not available for test driving at the recent Audi launch. On paper it emits 21 per cent less CO2 than its predecessor attracting a VED of £115 a year and running costs of around 43p per mile. The official combined mpg figure is around 49 but that of course is in perfect conditions.

The diesel range starts with a 134 bhp 2.0 litre four cylinder TDI unit that averages 64 mpg, with CO2 emissions of 116 g/km placing it in band C for Vehicle Excise Duty. The rest of the range takes in 2.0 TDI 163PS, a 177 PS version and two very hot 3.0 litre TDI engines pushing out up to 245PS. For those who want a really 'hot' version to rival the BMW M3 there will be a RS 4 version in September this year.

On my road test of the various vehicles the 2 litre diesel engines were definitely the most enjoyable to drive and are so competent they almost make the 3.0 litre versions redundant. They offer plenty of power ranging from 136PS to 177PS with a choice of six-speed manual or multitronic gearboxes. There are Quattro four wheel drive versions offered with seven speed S tronic twin-clutch also available. Standard equipment highlights include 3-zone climate control, cruise control, Bluetooth and light and rain sensors. There are also the usual three pages of Audi optional extras at extra cost!

The new model feature a new looking bonnet and front bumper, with redesigned radiator grille and headlamps. The cars all feature a new improved electro-mechanical power steering which makes the car easy to manoeuvre at low speeds.

The cabin is excellent and one of the car's high points; it is elegant and sophisticated. The dash sweeps round the driver. There's a new steering wheel to choose from, a new ignition key and the navigation system has been much improved with just four buttons instead of the confusing eight. Overall there is more room in the cabin than in the outgoing model. Only minus points are the pedals which are still off-set to the right. Across the range the price increase for the new models is £200. Prices start at £23,625 for the SE version of the old 1.8 petrol engine. The new 1.8 litre starts at £25,240, diesels range from £26,555 up to £38,405. The Avant versions add about an extra £1,200.

The A4 comes with a standard three year/60,000 mile warranty but for £34 a month owners can have Audi Complete which covers all services, maintenance and a five year/90,000 mile warranty.

Overall the fresher look of the car will certainly attract new buyers and the A4 is significantly cheaper than the BMW 3-Series – around a saving of £1,500.

Big cat ready to pounce on sector

It has already won a handful of awards from both car enthusiasts and industry pundits: now Jaguar's new XJ flagship is 'going large' in the prestige limousine sector.

Luxury cars don't come much bigger than the stretched XJ, which gives its well-heeled owners plenty of room to stretch out in the back and enjoy its climate control, big armchairs and TV and audio toys.

At 5.2 metres, the long wheelbase version is a whole 134mm longer than the standard XJ, making it so roomy that even a former deputy prime minister should be able to manage with only one Jag.

If that isn't enough of a saving, the three litre diesel version provides the effortless performance you'd expect of such a car with fuel economy still on the plus side of 40mpg and a relatively low emissions figure of 184g/km, better than some family hatchbacks.

That's partly due to its lightweight, all aluminium construction which also sharpens up its handling compared to some of its rivals. It also has an aerodynamic, couple-like profile which to a degree belies its size.

The surprise is, though, that the sweeping roofline doesn't rob you of space in the rear, as you sink into the deep leather armchairs and stretch out your legs.

It was a bold move by Jaguar to switch so drastically from the iconic XJ outline which has become so familiar over the last 40 years. But the bold move proved successful when the car became the number one choice for British business buyers in its first six months on sale.

Many such cars are, no doubt, bought by those who prefer to travel in the back, their laptops busy on the polished walnut tray table in front of them.

But unlike some of the rolling canal boats in this class in the past, the owners will want to be drivers, too. With the diesel engine's whopping 600Nm of torque and a silky smooth six-speed automatic, the long wheelbase XK wafts along motorways in near silence.

Roadholding abilities

But it can also press you back in the seat with 0 to 62mph acceleration in six seconds, sweeping smoothly and comfortably along twisty A-roads thanks to its inherent roadholding abilities and a combination of adaptive electronic dynamics designed to cope with every eventuality. These are fitted not only for safety but to take some of the load from the driver – but with systems such as the rapid 'flappy paddle' gear change the human behind the wheel is still in control, and can enjoy the dynamics of a fine, powerful car.

Whether you're in the back or the driving seat, the XJ is a car capable of carrying its passengers for long distances in ultimate comfort, and getting them to their destination relaxed and ready for business or leisure.

At £69,520 the Portfolio model tested isn't cheap but it is competitive in its class, as it does come exceptionally well equipped with technical and luxury features as standard. The optional extras were principally an upgrade to the rear seat entertainment pack, including the TV with two individual screens.

All the technical and safety features, and front and rear parking aid cameras, the cruise control and speed limiter to keep you legal, and the soft grain leather seats and tinted, solar glass are among the very long list of standard equipment.

The Jaguar also stands up very well to comparisons with its principal German rivals, in terms of both performance and economy as well as comfort and standard equipment.

Prices for the long wheelbase XJ start from £58,520 for the diesel power 'Luxury' specification. There is also a petrol version powered by the 5.0 litre V8 from the XK sports car starting at £70,950 which may well prove to be the preferred choice in some of the West Midlands company's export markets.

But there's no doubt that the diesel's combination of power, economy and cost-cutting has a very real appeal for European executives of today and tomorrow.

Complete comfort if you are in the back or front of this luxurious vehicle

A star on the streets – the Jaguar XJ is a winner in the limousine market

TIPS OF THE WEEK

When choosing a builder don't decide on price alone;

consider how easily you felt you could communicate with them when they visited to quote. This is when it's important to have visited references – consider what they had to say and the quality of work too.

When thinking of having home improvement work done, write a detailed brief and have drawings available too then ask at least three builders to come and quote. Find the builders through recommendations from friends, family or neighbours who have had similar work done by a local builder.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer.
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Villa easy winners despite a fightback

Pelsall Villa 4 Castle Vale 2
PELSALL claimed a comfortable win in the Midland Combination Premier after scoring twice in the first 10 minutes.

The opener took just three minutes to arrive. Daniel Battison heading home after a free-kick. He added a second from the penalty spot after Alex Roope was brought down.

Pelsall worked the ball well and sent Drake away down the right but his cross was headed straight at the keeper by Lewis. Drake then had a volley saved after a cross from Ash Lawley.

Pelsall's third came just after the half-hour when Drake provided an inch-perfect ball to send Lewis away. He unleashed an unstoppable shot from the edge of the penalty area. Villa had another chance when John Hawley drove through from midfield but shot high.

Battison, seeking a hat-trick, volleyed over before Phil Gayle found Drake wide on the right. His pull-back was dummied by debutant Keenan Mehan Richards and new-boy Courtney Smith's chance was blocked.

Vale, who had had few chances, got themselves back in the game with two second-half goals. But Pelsall put the game to bed with five minutes remaining. Battison put Roope in and from 25 yards he buried his shot.

Tigers roar to victory in fine style

Cresswell Tigers U9 4 Ashmore Park Rangers 1
A FINE all-round display saw the Tigers victorious with goals from Jake Percival (2), Tyler Bishop and Jack Humphries.

Some excellent goalkeeping from Cresswell's player of the match Joshua Humpage restricted Ashmore Park Rangers to just one consolation goal.

Cresswell Tigers U9 0 FC Premier 0

This one-sided match saw the Tigers do everything but score.

Cresswell player of the match Harrison Hughes was always a threat going forward from defence.

But FC Premier defended well and held out for a draw.

Revenge sweet for Pics after a long journey

Kendal Town 1 Rushall Olympic 3

REVENGE was sweet for Rushall Olympic.

They exacted swift retribution on a Kendal Town side who had turned a 2-1 deficit into a 3-2 win in the West Midlands the previous weekend.

On Saturday, the return fixture saw the Pics make the long trip to the Lake District to take swift revenge over the Cumbrian outfit in the Evo-Stik North Premier.

Pics took the lead after 25 minutes. A long throw from Jonny Haynes was flicked on by Nick Amos and Ahmed Obeng has on hand to nod the ball home. A second could have come soon after, when an Alex Melbourne cross was met by pacey front man Obeng four yards out but a bobble saw his finish sky over the bar.

The officials weren't endearing himself to either set of supporters, as their attempts to let the game flow seemingly lead to an increasing intensity in the challenges and an increase in tension.

This culminated when a typically combative challenge from Amos was seemingly followed up by the veteran getting with a boot to his mid-section.

Play was stopped as the Pics assistant boss received treatment – one of numerous trips onto the field by the physio – but play was restarted with a drop ball, despite heated debates among the players.

Kendal were the architects of their own downfall, as a breakdown of communication between Dootson and Joseph allowed Obeng to deftly slot home into an unguarded net, from the narrowest of angles, to give Rushall a 2-0 lead.

In the second half, Rushall were playing up the slope and, despite the best efforts of their hosts, they created more chances on the break.

Melbourne's first-time volley forced a fine save from goalkeeper Craig Dootson, who was still suffering from the clash with his own centre-half in the build up to the Pics second goal.

It seemed that Rushall's staunch defensive work had blunted Kendal's best efforts but, with 87 minutes on the clock, Kendal raised memories of the previous week's comeback when Matt Jackson's daisy-cutter found the bottom corner to make it 2-1.

But the Pics made the game safe after Craig Bannister broke through the defensive line.

His pull back evaded the home sides defence to allow Obeng to finish from six yards to achieve his hat-trick and complete the away victory.

Trap door opening under the Lockmen

Tipton Town 4 Willenhall Town 1

THE injury-hit Lockmen failed to hold onto a lead for the fourth time in five games as relegation from the Midland Alliance loomed large after this Black Country derby defeat.

Willenhall broke the deadlock on 14 minutes. Mattie Dorgan saw his through-ball flicked onto Ashley Granville, who closed in on goal, controlled and fired across Neil Price.

Hard-working Tipton battled back although there was an element of good fortune when skipper Dave Bate levelled, his 20-yard drive taking a big deflection past keeper Matt Flynn.

The home side began to get on top and it was no surprise when they took the lead when unmarked Rory McFarland headed home from a 44th-minute corner. The next goal was always going to be crucial and it went the way of Tipton, Andy Westwood firing home from a long throw into the box on 54 minutes. It could have been worse for Willenhall when Flynn upended Leigh Downing in the penalty area. But Flynn redeemed himself, flinging himself full length to keep out Downing's spot-kick.

The home side looked most likely to score and did just that when substitute Max Black blasted home with two minutes left.

Slacking is no option at Bloxwich

Bloxwich 7 Leek 0

BLOXWICH Ladies hockey thirds, who secured the league title last week, were determined to continue their winning ways.

Positive play, clean passing and great movement round the D led Sharon Hill to yet another hat-trick.

The defence did well and saw off two penalty corners. A fine pass from Sharon Beck to clear a penalty corner went to Mandy Jeffrey, two further passes and it was finished off with a goal for an interval score of 4-0.

Bloxwich continued to dominate in the second period, despite the keeper's efforts. Jeffrey and Langley both scored and Hill got her fourth.

Yeovil 2 Walsall 1

WALSALL have the fight and quality to survive their League One relegation struggle.

But what they need is a little luck after falling to defeat via a freak equaliser and an own goal. They were worthy of a point despite Yeovil's first-half dominance and territorial advantage for guts and attitude alone, writes Nick Mashiter.

Survival hopes take a dent, of course they do, with any defeat during the run-in but one loss in the last seven is not damning.

It will not condemn Walsall to the drop. It is rare at this stage of the season that so many positives can be gleaned from defeat to give heightened hope of avoiding the trapdoor.

The Saddlers, comfortably in possession, matched Yeovil and had it not been for Andy Williams' deflected equaliser and Anton Peterlin's late own goal they would have stretched their unbeaten run to seven.

Yet, as boss Dean Smith said afterwards, they need points rather than plaudits for performances.

Survival

The fight is wide open but if the Saddlers continue to perform as they have recently, the necessary points will be obtained.

That said, they would take a few scrappy 1-0 wins if it meant survival. They have to be brave and there cannot be any hesitation as only the fearless will prevail.

And it was a gutsy move from boss Smith to start the returning Emmanuel Ledesma up front with Jon Macken – especially with the creative force of Florent Cuvelier already in midfield.

There is an understandable buzz surrounding the Argentine's comeback after a year away. His seminal moment in a Walsall shirt came 12 months ago – the 5-2 revival against Hartlepool where he inspired the Saddlers from 2-0 down and scored the fifth goal.

Walsall's Emmanuel Ledesma takes avoiding action at Yeovil

This was a quiet return, though, with the 23-year-old still feeling his way back into the Saddlers' fold, his understanding with Macken a few degrees off.

The line-up itself was brimming with attacking influence. Cuvelier, Sam Mantom, Kevan Hurst and Alex Nicholls added to Walsall's grit.

Andy Butler and David Grof were outstanding with Butler, typically, leading by example by putting his body on the line.

The skipper is the man for the occasion – big or small – and in the Saddlers' survival push the one who will drive them on.

Ditto Grof who continues to impress after another faultless game where he was only beaten by two cruel deflections.

His late save from Dean Parrett – which unfortunately led to the corner and spawned Peterlin's own goal – was brilliant.

There is growing belief, in and out of the club, that the Hungarian can succeed Jimmy Walker.

He never looked like being beaten in Yeovil's first-half onslaught which saw Williams and Jonathan Franks denied.

Luke Ayling rattled the bar before Albion loanee Mantom fired low into the corner from 20 yards for his second goal in three games a minute before the break.

Florent Cuvelier in possession for the Saddlers

Dominic Blizard and Ed Upson headed over in the second half for Yeovil but the Saddlers looked comfortable until Franks' shot ballooned off Williams and looped over the stranded Grof just after the hour.

It was an incredible slice of fortune and Nicholls and Jamie Paterson wasted good openings trying to rectify the situation.

But Peterlin deflected into his own net from a corner, after Grof denied Parrett, seven minutes from time to hand Yeovil the win.

Runner in Olympic sprint to aid charity

A WALSALL runner will be sprinting on the Olympic stadium 100m track in London next month.

Maria Kavalieros, aged 24, will be running for charity with 21-year-old Jess Veltmann of Wolverhampton.

They are hoping to raise £400 for the Breakthrough Breast Cancer charity. Earlier this year they signed up to the organisation's Gold Challenge, pledging to tackle 30 Olympic sports between them including archery, football, canoeing and horse riding.

They were chosen by the charity to run the 100m at the first official event at the Olympic Stadium organised by the Gold Challenge.

Veltman said: "I am thrilled to be one of the first people to run on the 100m Olympic track - it's an incredible opportunity!"

Breakthrough Breast Cancer researches causes of the disease and treatments. To join the Gold Challenge, visit the website breakthrough.org.uk/gold-challenge, email activevents@breakthrough.org.uk or call 0207 280 4289.

All stars to take on Old Boys side

ALDRIDGE Cricket Club will welcome the footballing fraternity on Sunday when the Aston Villa All Stars team face a Walsall Phoenix Old Boys side.

The two will kick off at 2pm in a friendly at the Stick & Wicket Club to raise funds for Phoenix, which was formed in 1897 and has eight regular junior and senior teams.

Villa can pick from a squad of their past players such as Gordon Cowans, Colin Gibson, Tony Morley and Des Bremner, who won the European Cup with the club in 1982.

Pat Heard, Martin Carruthers and Bryan Small are also likely to be involved in the squad, which is bossed by ex-Villa defender and former Walsall manager Chris Nicholl.

The rest will be subject to availability but many former England internationals have turned out in the past. Tickets are £3 for adults and £2 for under-16s. Details on 07803 297 125 or 07400 433 373.

Toughest task to date at Delves Road combination of good defence and poor handling by the visitors kept Trentham in contention. Lock-forward Mike Benson made the breakthrough with a well-taken try.

The visitors maintained their territorial supremacy in the second period and stretched their lead when David Mott produced a neat break and crossed for a try which Andy Hawkins converted.

The game then disintegrated with both sides having repeated yellow cards. Trentham, however, did get a late score after a rare excursion into Walsall territory.

Continual infringements meant little was seen of Walsall's usual free-flowing style but the win keeps them top of the second team league with four games to play.

Walsall U 16 8 Burntwood 7

Walsall edged a fiercely-contested match by a single point.

After weathering an early storm, they began to show some confidence in their attacking play and Travis Duncan powered through to score the first try of the game.

Connor Pitt put over a well-struck penalty to give his team an 8-0 lead. However, the opposition came back strongly and found a rare hole in the Walsall defence.

They broke through to score a converted try to set up a tense second half.

It was tense throughout but fly-half Pitt's positional kicks enabled Walsall to put a great deal of pressure on a hard-tackling Burntwood defence.

There was no further scoring and Walsall secured the narrowest of victories.

Walsall U12 60 Bromsgrove 5

Walsall were too strong for a weakened Bromsgrove side in three 15-minute games and scored 12 tries with Joel Pepper, Nico Watkins, Rhys Gaddu, Jamie Harding, Henry Lavin, Rory Rollason and George Perkins all crossing the line.

Free kit is offered as league set to kick off

A NEW football competition is to start up in Walsall.

The league, operated by Europe's largest five and six-a-side provider Leisure Leagues, will run on Tuesdays at Shelfield Academy between 7-9pm.

It is being laid on in addition to the long-standing Monday league at the same venue.

Games will last 40 minutes and will be officiated by a qualified referee. All equipment is provided.

Free entry and free kit is available to all teams, and the winners and runners-up get the chance to play in the national six-a-side tournament.

League manager Sunny Mahal said: "The fact we are in a position to start the new league really is down to the hard work of the referees and staff there, not to mention the commitment of all the players."

"We are continually taken aback by the appetite for football that the people of Walsall show and we are delighted that we are able to help them."

Mahal said facilities at Shelfield are first-class. "We are delighted we can make use of them," he added.

Last-kick goal is a draw clincher

Silverdale Throshles U9 1 Tipton Youth 1

THE Throshles took the lead before half-time. Joe Daniels' through ball set up Ben Stanley for his 11th goal of the season.

Silverdale, with Keelan Pugh excellent in midfield, could not get the vital second goal and Tipton equalised with the last kick.

The Chronicle, a Midland News Association Ltd publication, printed by the company at Ketley, Telford, Thursday, March 22, 2012.

BOSS AIMS TO KEEP HIS ARGENTINE ACE

WALSALL manager Dean Smith has revealed he will try to tempt Emmanuël Ledesma to stay at the Banks's Stadium beyond the end of the season.

The Saddlers boss is keen on keeping his returning star, after the Argentine ace re-signed for the club for the remaining 11 games last week.

Ledesma, who left Walsall last summer after 10 outings, started in last Saturday's luckless 2-1 defeat at Yeovil.

Goalkeeper puts Wood on the spot

Walsall Wood 1 Coventry Copsewood 2

WALSALL WOOD fell to a home defeat courtesy of two penalties, both converted by visiting goalkeeper Scott Furlong.

Furlong's accuracy from the spot astounded Wood as he had only one shot on target but still took the Midlands Premier points.

Wood squandered a host of scoring chances after taking the lead on 10 minutes when Andre Gonzales played the ball forward and a defensive header was intercepted by Drew Aiton, who chipped Furlong.

But the visitors equalised after 23 minutes when Ricky Cutting won a penalty and Furlong ambled forward to despatch the spot-kick.

On 67 minutes, a long ball forward was again collected by Cutting on the left of the box. He held the ball up and was clattered from behind for a second penalty, again put away by Furlong.

And Smith confirmed he will seek talks with the playmaker to try to nail down a fresh deal.

He said: "It's something we are going to chat about at the end of the season. He's looking for something more permanent and, hopefully, we can do that."

"He came in, linked up well last Saturday and he got into some great positions. He took a while to get on the pace of the game but, once he did, he did well."

"We thought we would throw him in. He trained well, looked bright and we had a behind-closed-doors friendly and he played in that. He's got a great touch and great ability and I thought he linked up well with Jon Macken."

Smith offered the 23-year-old a contract after he helped the Saddlers to their Great Escape last season, but he opted to return to Argentina.

His last club was second division outfit Defensa Y Justicia in his homeland before returning for a third spell in England, having previously been on loan at QPR.

Ledesma, who is wearing squad No.28, trained with the squad last week, before penning a deal on the Friday to boost Smith's attacking options.
